

Round 49 Update (Wednesday 15th May)

Well you can't say that Spurs didn't give it a go. City's substitute keeper was named Man Of The Match in a game City really needed to win. The title race goes down to the final game of the season, but does it really... Cameras at the ready at The Emirates 📷📷

Krul Runnings are having a great run in. They top scored this round, although May have left the charge a week or two late to break into the top 4

You'll Never Guess Alone have also had a bit of form of late, joined at the top this round by Jolly Green Sleeping Giants & Stalking Tall.

Current form will win The Magnificent 7, and, Krul Runnings run in has them top, Chelsea Hawks are back in third now, a few points away from Lard Lovers XI.

We head into the final round with the top three having opened a bit of a gap from the rest, although a big round could close the gap .

Krul Runnings (£65.00)	201.89
Lard Lovers XI (£25.00)	195.05
Chelsea Hawks (£15.00)	190.27
Saved By The Belle	168.82
GraniteCity Fox	153.50

The full table is on the Dashboard, and is updated there as the other tables change as the goals go in.

Lard Lovers XI are ahead, and like City, all but a disaster should see them take the Title. A second in three seasons.

2 T'Wire are now 26 points behind. That's one good banker or a couple of scores away.

Third are Multiple Scoregasms and Borussia Munchingflapjack have closed the gap in them to 13 points

Worth reminding I think, that points won in The Picks do contribute to the League Table, with 3% of points won be added, so the Final position will not be confirmed until the last ball is kicked in the 23/24 season...

Just R50 realistically left to decide the outcome of the league though.

In The Picks, Kanu Feel It & SpursCollectables had big weekends, well ahead of the rest.

Racing Todabogs extended their lead and look set to scupper the attempts by Lard Lovers XI of a League and Picks double. The lead has been stretched to nearly 80 points, still too close to finally call though, with the final game of 23/24 taking place on 2nd June.

We are going to see a few more twists and turns as the cups reach their finales.

The Last Team Standing Competition saw the last three teams evicted, before the Final in R50

Footie Flounder	20.62
Ant But No Dec	25.25
Tumbledwyer	26.49
Boleyn Exiles	28.38
IndoSpur	34.44
SpursCollectables	36.90

Footie Flounder, Ant But No Dec &

TumbleDwyer all suffer the disappointment (I was going to say heart ache but thoughts that too much) of missing out on the Final, and have to say goodbye.

So we have the final 7, and the Best Team will win the £100 cash prize, second place £30.

For the other five, just the knowledge you got that close.

The Fans League had no league games this round

Instead it was the cup Final, which saw The Rugby Fans get a late equaliser when City scored, and then muster enough points to win the Cup on penalties over West Ham

It's the final round of league games in R50. When Spurs Fans will be presented with the Title

I keep saying it's for fun, and isn't really a statement that all the fans at the top of the table understand football better than those at the bottom.

I stand by it, I mean it

Honest.

Relegated teams same points as Last Season

Both Arsenal and City won games they lost last season, so both added 3 points to their totals. Liverpool dropped points when they threw away a two goal lead at Villa, having won there 3-1 last season.

It keeps City on top by 2 points.

Not many games to go, and the Perpetual gets closer and closer to the real thing.

I've not deducted points for Everton or Forest. Worth noting, Forest would have been relegated last year, without the deduction, based on this table!!

R50 is now on the website.

AND

THE DEADLINE IS 6PM TONIGHT, as we capture the final 12 Premier League games of the season

I will, of course, chase you.
