

F1 Race Report - Mexico

Oh Max, thanks for keeping the Championship alive.... You kind of get the feeling this ain't over yet, and there could be even more penalties to come in the final four races.

And we keep the interest going in our little competition also.

It paid to be on Ferrari this time out, and, I was advised that was where to be, so stuck all my chips on Max instead !!!!

My adviser though, the current table topper, did back Carlos and Ferrari though. We Are Checking took top spot on the podium in Mexico, ahead of Wax MeStrapOn Racing in second spot who also backed Carlos and Ferrari. Both finished well ahead of the rest.

Haas Ta La Vista took the final podium place, nudging out No Michael No & Gravy and Red Bull HR Dept.

The win sees We Are Checking stretch the lead at the top, now ahead of Wax MeStrapOn Racing who have jumped ahead of Red Bull HR Dept into second place. Mansell & Vettel stay in touch with the top 3, the rest of us will need rain and some big calls in the final four races.

I'm still working on some new formats for 2025, I'm guessing we will be up for it again.

Those who tag along in the Footy will know that I like to split up the prize money as much as possible, it increases my chances of winning some of it, although the reality of winning any of it remains the same.

I guess I should check that you are interested in going again next year before doing any more messing with it.

Full Driver Tables and Team Tables are on the website, The Driver's Table has its own tab, the Team is on The Useful Stuff page.

The top five also now appear on the Dashboard, and do get updated when I make any updates during the Race weekend.

The Dash also shows the points they've won in the last dozen or so races.

No surprise I guess that the McLaren team and boys are out at the front, one of the things I am going to introduce next year is 'Live Coefficients' so effectively the previous race will influence the handicap of the drivers.

Those winnings are starting to get closer and closer to being set in stone.

Pay out will be after Race 24, and just before Christmas, don't spend it yet though

The Table	Race 20/24	£534.36
First	We Are Checking	£274.36
Second	Wax MeStrapOn Racing	£130.00
Third	Red Bull HR Dept	£70.00
Fourth	Mansell & Vettel	£30.00
Lottery Prize	Podium finishes by British Drivers in 2024, 19, currently paying out to Haas Zhou Luego	£30.00

That last £30.00 could well be paid out to the bottom team, every British Driver finish counts, and the number of Podium Finishes by any Brits will determine the place the cash gets paid to.

We're off to Brazil and Sao Paulo this weekend, with the race on the 3rd November, and the deadline on Saturday, 5PM

That's Saturday 5PM
